

GREATEST IN THE WORLD!

Reporters Have Canvassed the Druggists of New York City.

Tremendous Demand for Paine's Celery Compound, the Wonderful Remedy that Makes People Well--Sells Above All Others Because It Cures--The Public Profits by the Researches of Dartmouth's Famed Professor.

There is a tremendous demand in New York City for Paine's celery compound.

Reporters during the week have canvassed the druggists.

Paine's celery compound is selling high and dry above all other remedies. The druggists have never known such a call for any medicine.

They agree upon the cause with wonderful unanimity:

It makes people well!

Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine, a sarsaparilla or an ordinary tonic; it is superior to them all. As a celebrated physician-writer has said, "It is as much better as the diamond is more brilliant than ordinary glass."

Paine's celery compound was first prescribed by America's greatest physician, Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., who, first as a student at New Haven, and afterwards as professor at Dartmouth, honored two of his country's most famous institutions, and as a practitioner is known and quoted by every hospital staff of Europe.

Physicians prescribe and use Paine's celery compound.

The common people, by experience, have learned its wonderful merits; men and women of the highest social standing, like Mayor McShane, of Montreal, Rev. Fr. Ouellet, Marie Tempest, George Wright, Mabel Jenness, Hon. John M. Francis, Commodore Howell, and hosts of others, have given their testimony to its curative powers. It is the one true Spring medicine.

Paine's celery compound purifies the blood of every taint and poisonous humor, and quickly cures diseases of the kidneys, biliousness and more serious liver diseases, as well as all troubles due to disordered nerves, as dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism, inability to sleep, and all forms of nervous weakness. It cures where everything else fails.

Here is what the leading druggists of New York say:

Biggest House in the Country.

Charles N. Crittenton Company (wholesale), 115 Fulton street—We are selling more of Paine's celery compound than of any other one preparation at the present time, and the demand is growing. We ship the compound all over the country, which goes to show that in the eyes of the public it has very positive merits.

Wilson's Pharmacy, 34th street and Broadway—We think here that the compound is an excellent preparation. Great quantities of it go over our counter, and those who buy it praise it highly. Actors, men-about-town, all sorts of people get it, and we consider it one of the indispensable of our stock.

Bolton Drug Company—Do people buy Paine's celery compound? Well, I should say they did. Figures will tell the story better than anything else. Last year we sold about 800 bottles of it a month. The number is now about ten gross per month, or over fifteen hundred single bottles. What better record do you want than that? As to the merits of the medicine we get good reports on every hand.

McKesson & Robbins (wholesale), 191 Fulton street—Paine's celery compound has a market in all parts of the United States, and in many places people buy more of it than of any proprietary medicines.

Lawrence Keyser, Sixth avenue and Twenty-sixth street—We keep a large supply of Paine's celery compound on our shelves all the time. It is a great seller, and often when people come in to get it they say that they have tried it before and found it the best thing of its kind on the market. Some of them buy it regularly, and all who make any comments at all praise it highly.

"Going Like Wildfire."

C. G. Facon & Co. (wholesale), 20 College place—Paine's celery compound is going like wildfire this Spring. There is a wonderful demand for it, and not alone in New York do we sell it, but all over the country.

Hall & Ruckel (wholesale), 214 Greenwich street—We have heard Paine's celery compound spoken of in the highest terms by consumers, and have known of its use with the greatest benefit by those who are worn out by mental activity to the extent that physicians and other remedies have been given up and this was used exclusively. We think the demand for it is increasing very rapidly. We sell it largely all over the country; North, South, East and West, and also extensively at retail.

Frederick Wichelns (wholesale and retail), 192 Greenwich street—The compound gives excellent satisfaction to our customers, to whom much of it is sold.

F. W. Robinson & Son (wholesale and retail), 182 Greenwich street—Paine's celery compound is one of the best sellers among the proprietary medicines, and we have no doubt that consumers are entirely satisfied with it. The demand is among all classes of people.

O. H. Jadwin (wholesale), 62 Cortlandt street—The trade in Paine's celery compound is good in all parts of the country, and the demand is growing rapidly.

Henry Klein & Co., 44 Cortlandt street—It is wonderful what a hold the compound seems to have taken. It keeps going and going, and we have to constantly renew our orders and to make them bigger.

Matthew Mahler, 157 Greenwich street—There is no doubt about it, Paine's is one of the best selling medicines in existence.

John Carl & Sons (wholesale and retail), 153 Water street—Both our wholesale and retail customers speak well of Paine's celery compound. People must like it, because we are selling it largely in all parts of the country, and the demand is increasing.

Sumner's Pharmacy, 88 Wall street—Our customers are Wall street business men and financiers. It is absurd to imagine that they would be fooled or led astray. They have the power to judge an article for just what it is worth. But they think well of Paine's celery compound, and so do we. A good many bottles are going over our counters.

Lehn & Fink (wholesale), 121 William street—There is a big demand this spring for Paine's celery compound South, West and in the New England States.

Patterson & Purdy (wholesale)—The demand for Paine's celery compound is growing fast all along the line. People want it here in New York and they want it all over the country. So the result is, it is being shipped everywhere.

S. A. Brown (wholesale and retail), 28 and 30 Fulton street—A great many of our customers buy the compound. Many people come back for more of it after having tried it.

Skinner & Milligan (wholesale and retail), 60 Fulton street—Our customers think very highly of it, and it has the confidence of the trade. We sell it very freely over our trade at retail, and also wholesale. A high medicinal value is put upon Paine's celery compound.

People Who Swear By It.

H. M. O'Neill, 463 Hudson street—We have customers who swear by the compound and our personal opinion is that it is an excellent article in every respect. Some people come in, after they have tried it, for a second bottle, because it has done them good, but are put into good shape again by one bottle.

Ambler's Pharmacy, 46 Columbus avenue—We are selling more of Paine's celery compound than of any other tonic. It is largely bought by women for the nerves.

Frederick Kleins, 579 Columbus avenue—I have no doubt that the latter is a good nerve tonic.

Riverside Pharmacy, West 89th street—I think the remedy is an excellent one, particularly for nervous troubles and debilitated women, who buy a great deal of it. I have heard some of my customers say that it has benefited them greatly. Of course, when somebody comes in here and buys something, and you never see them again, you can't tell what the effect of the medicine has been. But mine is not a transient trade. Patrons have come into my store many times and said that somebody has recommended the celery compound to them, or that they have already tried it and want another bottle. There could be no better commendation of a remedy than this. It makes you sure of the worth of what you are selling. I have sold the same person four and five bottles of the compound at different times.

H. Denhoff, Spring and Hudson streets—People could not do better when they want something to invigorate them than to take Paine's celery compound.

P. B. Knapp, 364 Hudson street—We are laying in four or five times as large a stock of Paine's celery compound as we did six months ago, and even then it had a large sale. This indicates that it is well and favorably known.

F. W. Kinsman & Co., 30th street and Sixth avenue—Personally we think the compound is an excellent thing, and consumers seem to think so, too, for they buy a great deal of it. After giving it a trial they will come back for more. This is a pretty good evidence as to its merit. We could never do without it.

F. Nicholas, 717 Sixth avenue—Our customers praise Paine's celery compound very highly. We sell a great deal of it this time of the year, and recently more than ever before. Judged by the recommendations of those who have tried it, and the amount of sales, a fair inference would be that it gives relief to many people.

Louis A. Bates, 421 street and Sixth avenue—I have never heard an adverse criticism upon Paine's compound, which is more than can be said of some other proprietary medicines. People who buy it—and there are plenty of them about here—have no words for it but those of praise. It has an excellent sale, and that it is a good thing I have no doubt.

Best for Nervous Women.

Michael & Co., 381 Eighth avenue—Agentleman came in here yesterday and asked for Paine's celery compound. "This is the best thing in the market for nervous women," he said, as he took the bottle.

"My wife was all run down, depressed in spirits, couldn't eat and couldn't sleep. She heard of the celery compound in some way and asked me to get her a bottle of it from us and then she changed in a week after she began to take it, and now she is better than she has been in six months before. I am getting this bottle as a sort of finishing touch to make the good work doubly sure." That's the kind of testimony we get of Paine's celery compound, and judging from them, we have come to consider it a very good thing.

William B. Riker & Son, 222 street and Sixth avenue—The great demand for Paine's celery compound shows very conclusively that it is the favorite of the public. A person will buy a bottle of it from us and then come to the store again and again for more. Whenever they are out of sorts or slightly depressed they must have their celery compound. Our sales of it have been large for some time, but I think there has been a great increase during the last six months.

Priest's Pharmacy, 212 street and Seventh avenue—We have a continuous demand for Paine's celery compound. We find it an unusually ready seller, and this fact attests to its merit. The best recommendation an article can have is a large and steady sale.

William Weiss, 34th street and Seventh avenue—There is hardly a druggist but will speak highly of Paine's celery compound as a nerve tonic—that is, if they know anything at all about it. We know, because almost everybody who has tried it says that it invigorated them, steadied their nerves, or benefited them in some way. The demand is growing so great that we have to order a new lot of it every few days. We sell a great deal of it here, and almost as much at our store at Rockaway Beach.

Paine's Celery Made Him Well.

George E. Tappenden, 98 Columbus avenue—Paine's celery compound is a good thing. We sell lots of it. It braces a man up, strengthens his nerves and has a very beneficial action on the brain. Several of our customers have commented on it. There was a man who came in here with a hollow chest, sunken cheeks and a generally woe-begone and melancholy look. He said he had no appetite, couldn't sleep, and had lost all interest in life. He took three bottles of Paine's celery compound. In two weeks you could see the difference. He straightened up, his cheeks filled out, and you could see the glow on them which indicates perfect health.

Hegeman's Pharmacy, Broadway, near John street—We have to keep a big stock of Paine's celery compound. The demand is large and is growing. One bottle seems to sell another.

J. Millian's son, 183 Broadway—A great many people want Paine's celery compound. New Yorkers are not fools. They know what is good for them, therefore it may be concluded that the compound has beneficial effects.

W. G. Moffat, Broadway and Barclay street—We have frequent calls for the compound. We keep a large stock of it to meet the growing demand.

City Hall Pharmacy, Broadway—I notice an increase in the demand. Where we bought a quarter of a dozen bottles formerly we take a dozen now. We sell at least 200 per cent. more than we did at this time a year ago.

Weissman & Mueller, 9 Little House street—Some of our customers would never be without Paine's celery compound. They buy it regularly. Our sales amount to at least three dozen a week and are rapidly increasing.

Ernest Denicke, 158 Second avenue—Paine's celery compound is all right. It is an excellent thing for people who are physically and mentally exhausted.

It makes them feel young and happy, and it gives them vitality. That it builds a man up I can say from personal experience.

J. Lifschitz, 146 Second avenue—Paine's celery compound is a standard remedy, and undoubtedly is a good one, because otherwise people would not buy it as they do. There are a great many bottles of it being sold in New York now.

John A. Proben, 192 Second avenue—I have a good word to say for Paine's celery compound. I think it is a good remedy, and there is certainly a large demand for it.

A. Baselow & Co., 69 Sixth avenue—In my opinion, Paine's celery compound ranks far above the ordinary medicine. A person can take it, I am sure, with perfect safety and get a great deal of relief out of it. From what I have heard of it, I would take it myself if I were suffering from nervous exhaustion. As to the sales, they are better than those of any other nerve tonic we have in stock, and are double what they were at this time last year.

Grande Pharmacie Normale, University and Clinton places—Paine's celery compound has an excellent reputation, and sells well. Customers of mine have often spoken highly of it to me. They buy it, and then when they are ill again, they come back for more.

William H. Miller, 42 University place—There is no preparation on our shelves that is asked for to-day oftener than Paine's celery compound.

Has Taken a Big Jump.

Haas's Pharmacy, Fourth avenue and 21st street—We have a number of customers who buy Paine's celery compound. There has been considerable demand for it for some time, but the sales have taken a big jump lately.

F. Wuersten, 19 Bowery—We infer from the fact that a great many people have bought Paine's celery compound that it is a good remedy. Some of our customers buy the compound regularly.

The majority of these are nervous and debilitated women.

Wanier & Ingard, of 125th street and Lenox avenue—We are now selling more of Paine's celery compound than of any other prepared medicine, and we keep all that are made. We have a great many customers who are habitual users of it, and many have told us that it has greatly benefited them.

C. A. Marsh, of 125th street and Madison avenue—I believe Paine's celery compound is a good medicine. There is nothing in the store which sells better.

L. A. Hassell, of 2418 Second avenue—Whatever I have sold of Paine's celery compound has accomplished good results. My sister-in-law tried every medicine I have on these shelves and derived greater benefit from Paine's celery compound than from all the others.

T. Benson, of 234 Third avenue—I have seen a great deal of Paine's celery compound during my career as a practical druggist, and I am a firm believer in its efficacy. I have known numbers of people whom it has cured of troubles which result from overwork—such as indigestion, loss of sleep and nervous prostration. I am always glad to recommend it.

Charles F. Hatterman, corner of Columbus avenue and 90th street—All my customers speak well of Paine's celery compound. When once they begin to use it they continue to do so, and I know from that that it is a good remedy. One family in 100th street has been buying it continuously for six months. Many persons continue to use it after the immediate necessity has passed away, as it is a pleasant laxative and keeps the system in order.

Albert T. Koertge, of Eighth avenue and 160th street—I find that the people who buy Paine's celery compound not only return for more, but recommend it to their friends.

Friendley, of 2183 Eighth avenue—I sell more of Paine's celery compound than any other remedy offered for nervous diseases, and many of the purchasers tell me it has done them good.

George B. Foster, of Eighth avenue and 120th street—Paine's celery compound is a great favorite with women and girls. I know nothing whatever of its composition, but it is evidently a salutary remedy for female complaints.

J. A. Carpenter, the proprietor of the Pharmacie Francaise at Eighth avenue and 123d street—We are selling large quantities of Paine's celery compound, and hear good reports from those who use it.

Gray, E. Haecker, of Eighth avenue and 135th street—Paine's celery compound is a favorite with women.

Wilbur F. Rawlins, of Eighth avenue and 155th street—I have recently heard a large number of people speak in highest terms of Paine's celery compound. They were all persons who had used it, and spoke from actual experience.

C. G. Tomlinson, of Amsterdam avenue and 102d street—I am selling today more of Paine's celery compound than of any other remedy prescribed for nervous trouble.

Found It the Best of All.

Beach Pharmacy, 533 Hudson street—I have a high opinion of Paine's celery compound. I don't know what its ingredients are, but I do know that it sells better than any other proprietary medicine there is on the market. It is an excellent remedy.

James M. Collins, Hudson street—Several people, whose opinions are worthy of consideration have taken Paine's celery compound and have found it the best thing yet. That it is very well liked is indicated by the number of people who have come in to get it on the recommendation of others.

The remedy is becoming known, and just proportionately the public is realizing that it is a good one.

Hugo Koehling, 58 Eighth avenue—I have frequently heard Paine's celery compound spoken highly of by consumers. The sale is brisk, which is evidence that it is a good thing. It is by this criterion of demand that we judge our stock.

M. F. Bender, 14th and Hudson streets—People want Paine's celery compound.

Adrian Fritz, 642 Hudson avenue—Paine's celery compound is sold in large quantities.

Thomas Cole, 12th street and Eighth avenue—Paine's celery compound is a good thing. As a seller it is on top.

A. A. Herschner, West 10th and West 4th streets—There is a good demand for the compound and people who have bought it say that it does them good.

A. Ammon, Columbus avenue and 81st street—About this time of the year a good many people need a tonic to tone them up. Paine's celery compound meets this need, if we may judge from the number of people who buy it and say that it helps them.

Carter & Robertson, 288 Columbus avenue—The sale of Paine's celery compound is improving wonderfully. I have heard customers say that they found it an excellent remedy, women particularly, who are sufferers from nervous difficulties. They return for second and third bottles, and this I consider a pretty sure sign that they are being benefited.

F. B. Bracker, 52d street and Eighth avenue—Frequently people have told me that they have been benefited by Paine's celery compound, and after buying their first bottle customers have come back for more.

Faulkner's Pharmacy, 808 Eighth avenue—Celery has a beneficial action upon the nerves, and, therefore, Paine's celery compound should be a good tonic. I have heard it very favorably spoken of.

Bolenfall & Pitting, 45th st. and 8th ave.—Paine's celery compound is one of the best-selling articles we have in stock.

Hudnut's Pharmacy, Broadway and Ann st.—We have a big call for Paine's celery compound. People like it and buy it, and the inference is that it does them good.

Faster Many Times.

E. C. Goetting, of Amsterdam avenue and 100th street—I find the sale of Paine's celery compound increasing faster many times than any other remedy.

Paul Fels, Ph. G., of 721 Amsterdam avenue, corner 95th street—Paine's celery compound is selling better this Spring than any other nerve medicine on the market. The customers speak highly of it, and almost invariably come back for more.

Ferdinand T. Schmidt, of Amsterdam avenue and 80th street—I regard Paine's celery compound as a good medicine.

R. Lucke, 437 Amsterdam avenue, at the corner of 81st street—My customers have told me so often that Paine's celery compound has done them good that I am convinced it is a good, safe and salutary medicine. Purchasers almost invariably return for a second supply.

Hauenstein, 475 Amsterdam avenue, corner of 77th street—I don't recommend Paine's celery compound to any one, because there is not much profit in it, but I am bound to say that it is growing in popularity in spite of the druggists' opposition. I have had numerous customers come back for it three and four times.

Charles H. Schmidt, 295 Amsterdam avenue, corner of 74th street—Every one who tries Paine's celery compound is speaking well of it and generally returns for another bottle.

It Is Growing Every Day.

Charles S. Erb, of 121 Amsterdam ave., corner of 65th st.—The demand for Paine's celery compound is growing every day.

J. F. Comerford, of 405 West 59th st.—I have sold a great deal of Paine's celery compound in my career as a druggist, and I believe it to be an excellent medicine. I have heard all who used it speak of it in the highest terms.

C. Burian, of 64 Columbus ave.—There is no medicine that I keep which sells so well as Paine's celery compound.

George E. Tappenden, of 98 Columbus ave., at the corner of 64th st.—I believe Paine's celery compound is the best-prepared medicine offered for nerve troubles. I have heard many of my customers praise it very highly.

William B. Parkin & Co., of 141 Columbus ave.—Paine's celery compound is an excellent medicine.

Dorn, Columbus ave. and 93d st.—People in this neighborhood regard Paine's celery compound very highly.

C. A. Marsh, 125th street and Madison avenue and East 124th street—I am selling a great deal of Paine's celery compound this Spring. People wouldn't try it unless it did them some good. As they say it is just the sort of Spring tonic they want.

John Wimmer, 2187 Third avenue—I am selling so much of Paine's celery compound that I think people must regard it very favorably. I never heard a complaint against it. Sometimes the same customer takes several bottles after trying the medicinal in cases where other remedies which claim like properties have no influence whatever in comparison. I hear that the compound has become popular with the general public.

William L. Olliff, 6 Bowery—Yes, indeed, I have a good call for Paine's celery compound. I know little personally of its precise properties or the ingredients used in its manufacture, but I should say that it must be good, else the number of people who are using it would soon decrease. That is not the fact, however, and I think that the sale is increasing.

George Goetting, Third avenue and 45th street—can say that the sales of Paine's celery compound are larger than one would suppose from the small time it has been upon the market. As far as I have observed, all classes of people ask for it.

Sayre & Pringle, Eighth avenue, near 57th street—This is just the time of the year when Paine's celery compound sells the best. We do a large business with it. The celery compound is growing wonderfully in popularity among all sorts of people. Of course such a medicine ought to be popular in New York, where people are using their brains so much. It must have a large sale here if all the stores do what we do.

Nauheim, Lexington avenue and 50th street—People have recently come in here and asked for Paine's celery compound who never took much medicine of that kind.

Church's Pharmacy, Spring street and Bowery—We are selling much more of Paine's celery compound than we thought we would sell. It has become popular with the mass of the people.

Theo. Renneberg, 636 Third avenue—From all that we have heard, Paine's celery compound must be a good medicine and tonic. We sell a great deal of it, and we should not handle it if we did not think that it was a worthy article.

Herman Betz, 780 Third avenue—You can say that we deal in Paine's celery compound to a large extent, and that we have a good call for it. We deal in nothing except what we can recommend.

W. N. Haverstick, Madison avenue and 59th street—We have a very high class of customers and the demand for Paine's celery compound among them is large. They are such people as appreciate such things, and their judgment ought to have much weight with the trade in general, for they are persons of intellect, brainworkers, who know what they are doing when they call for a tonic or medicine.

Dr. Galpin Recommends It.

Dr. H. T. Galpin, whose drug store on the northeast corner of Sixth avenue and 57th street is one of the largest and best known on that busy thoroughfare—The demand for Paine's celery compound is rapidly increasing, and is greater by far than that for any other proprietary medicine. I now sell twelve dozen bottles a month, which is an increase of 50 per cent. over what the sales were three months ago. It is a notable fact that those who buy one bottle of Paine's celery compound almost invariably come back for others. I recommend it to all who ask for a nerve medicine, for I know of many cases, both among my customers and my personal friends, where Paine's celery compound has cured nervous prostration. I have no hesitation in recommending it, for I believe it to be the duty of all who know of a really efficacious remedy to make its merits known, so that poor, suffering wretches who need it may learn of its existence and derive whatever comfort it can confer upon their condition. Paine's celery compound is undoubtedly an efficacious remedy for headache, mental exhaustion, insomnia and every other disorder resulting from nervous derangement or overwork.

William A. Dix, of 1005 Sixth avenue—The demand for Paine's celery compound is not excited by any other preparation. I am certain it is a good medicine, for those to whom we sell it come again and again.

Even M. Intyre & Son, whose drug store at the southeast corner of Sixth avenue and 56th street is one of the oldest uptown—We sell more of Paine's celery compound than we do of any other remedy prepared for nervous exhaustion or kindred troubles. During the last month the demand has materially increased.

Some Remarkable Cures.

Henry Buch, Columbus avenue and 93d street—Several remarkable cures effected by Paine's celery compound have come under my notice. One customer of mine recently took six bottles and was cured of nervous exhaustion, insomnia and indigestion. Every time he tried to eat the effort threw him into a state of nervous collapse. Now he is a well man.

Not long ago a lady told me she had been cured of pimples in the face. She took Paine's celery compound for another purpose, and was surprised to find the unsightly blotches which had disfigured her countenance disappear.

Alfred F. Terry, Columbus ave. and 80th st.—Paine's celery compound sells more briskly than any other preparation of that kind we handle. It is especially popular with the Spanish people, of whom large numbers live in this vicinity.

A. Ammon, of Columbus ave. and 81st st.—The sale of Paine's celery compound are greater than those of any of its rivals, and are rapidly increasing.

Carter & Robinson, of Columbus ave. and 93d st.—Paine's celery compound sells better than any other remedy we offer. This store is in the center of what is perhaps the wealthiest neighborhood in the city, and I regard the preference shown for Paine's celery compound as significant.

Edmund Pinter, of 7th ave. and 132d st.—There is an increased demand for Paine's celery compound than ever before.

What John T. Reinwald Says.

John T. Reinwald, chemist, Lexington avenue, near 111th street—I have a great respect for Paine's celery compound. It seems to have many properties which other remedies do not possess. I do not know what the vital essence is, but it is surely very effective in a wide range of ailments. It is true that it has a noticeable influence upon the brain forces. I have experimented with it a little, for I am always interested in such new discoveries, and I have found that it is beneficial in cases where other remedies which claim like properties have no influence whatever in comparison. I hear that the compound has become popular with the general public.

William L. Olliff, 6 Bowery—Yes, indeed, I have a good call for Paine's celery compound. I know little personally of its precise properties or the ingredients used in its manufacture, but I should say that it must be good, else the number of people who are using it would soon decrease. That is not the fact, however, and I think that the sale is increasing.
